“Hello, my name is Bob. Some people call me a good ole boy and I guess they’d be right: I like to think of myself as one of those laid-back kind of cats who don’t sweat the small stuff, if you know what I mean. I may be a little long in the tooth and a little rough around the edges but that don’t stop me from putting the youngun’s in their place if they need it. . . and between me and you, they need it a lot! As you can probably tell, I’m quite a character. Why don’t ya just mosey on down and visit for a spell?”

“Hi, my name is Dennis. My brother, Cauley, and I are typical Irish lads—we have red hair and green eyes, a slight brogue in our meow and a really positive attitude towards life. Today, St Patrick’s Day, is the best time to celebrate all things Irish, although I confess that green beer is not something either one of us has tried. We feel that the luck of the Irish has brought us to KRA after our caregiver died of cancer and that our lucky charms will help find us another wonderful home. Let’s hear it for the Irish!!”
